

Your Audiology Assessment Appointment

Patient Information Lefelt

October 2021

How long will the appointment take?

The appointment for the hearing assessment will last for about 1 hour.

Who will be present during the appointment?

The appointment will be made by a qualified audiologist. You are welcome to bring a family member or friend to the meeting

What will happen during appointment?

The audiologist will ask you some questions about your medical history and hearing problems. The audiologist will then examine your ear canals and ear drums and test the hearing if appropriate.

Your Audiology Evaluation Appointment

The hearing test will be conducted using headphones in the soundproof room. The test is aimed at determining the softest sounds you can hear on different pitches. The small vibration device can then be placed behind one of your ears to complete the test.

What will happen after appointment?

The audiologist will discuss with you the results of your hearing test. If your hearing is normal, we will discharge you back to your GP. If you have hearing loss, we will discuss possible ways to manage hearing loss which may include hearing aid/s fittings. We will also discuss it with you if you need to send it forward to the ENT expert.

Risks associated with meeting

No aggressive procedure has been adopted in this appointment. Your consent will be asked before any procedure. You have the right to consent or stop.
